As One Goes Around

His hair was very white, he had kind eyes and I always remember him because of the long handlebar moustache he was proud of. I have been in many political crucifixions, from that of the late Secretary A. B. Fall, of New Mexico, to the Alexander McKenzie attacks in North Dakota (Mr. McKenzie was featured as McNamara in Rex Beach's Alaska story, "The Spoilers") but both Secretary Fall and Alexander McKenzie were fighters—and the treatment J. F. A. Strong received from his Democratic friends in Alaska surpassed them all. J. F. A. Strong did not know how to be tough. He trusted too much to his false friends and their perfidy brought to him his death. Mayor Strong came to Alaska a newspaperman. For a time he was at Katella and ran a small paper. Then he managed to get together quite a sum of money and established a daily paper at Juneau. He had friends all over the territory and his paper did well. He was faultlessly honest and he was generous to a fault. It was not very long before Major Strong was appointed Governor of Alaska. I was leaving the territory and all seemed encouraging for a successful political career for Major Strong, but pretty soon I began to hear alarming reports about his chances of weathering the political storm an unscrupulous newspaperman was back of. Major Strong had brought the man who was now destroying him up to the point he was eating regularly, he had taken him into his newspaper and, when charges at Washington were filed, through the instrumentality of his false friend, Governor Strong, old, sick and despairing, only fought them weakly and, in the end he resigned. Broken-hearted Major Strong disposed of his newspaper ridiculously cheap — It had become a valuable one—and, of all things, the man who had undermined him finagled himself into possession of the plant. Fate's unkindness did not end there—the very man who had wormed his way into Major Strong's friendship, double-crossed him, acted the Judas character in depriving him of his newspaper and the Governorship, was, of all men, named Governor of Alaska! In the meantime the ex-Governor had gone back to the Sound Country, but it was not very long until death took him. The one appealing spot in the tragic story of Major J. F. A. Strong was that his fine wife stood loyally by him and, although Political hatchet men destroyed him, every rough-necked Sourdough in the Northwest was his friend and not tongue-tied in declaring it.

I was talking to an executive in a foremost pulp-making plant the other day and he informed me the newsprint situation would be a trying one for some time to come. There would be, he said, a number of price increases and the paper makers would try and hold down supplies of newsprint with the idea of protecting the men now in the publishing business. The paper mills have all the business they can handle and they are not seeking any more contracts from newspapers. A corporation is at the present time trying to establish a Metropolitan paper. It has unlimited means and powerful connections, but it cannot get the mechanical equipment, nor can it obtain a contract with a mill to supply newsprint. This would appear to discount the story so often heard these days of a capitalistic combination intending to start a rival paper at Santa Rosa to oppose The Press-Democrat. If the would-be publishers can drive a bargain with the Finley heirs they likely would be able to get by, as they would be in line to use the contract The Press-Democrat has with the Zellerbachs, but, if there is no sale, probably there will be no new paper, because there will be no paper on which to get the paper out.

Long ago she ran "The Irish World," the big bagnio in Butte, Montana, and she amassed a pile of money. She did not have the characteristics which other sporting women in the role of Landladies sometimes, in stories appearing in the papers, are depicted having. It was in jest rounders in Butte's heyday were wont to say Mary Mullen, for that was her name, never jarred herself loose for a round of drinks, even when fast buyers at a dollar a bottle were on hand. She was tight, and miserable with the poor, as well. On my last trip to to city I ran onto an old-time Butte man and he told me Mary Mullen, aged, wrinkled and crippled, now navigating with a cane, sits in the lobby of a leading hotel in Butte in a rocking chair she has provided for herself and miserably drags out her hours. Old residents, occasionally, stop to speak to her, but most of them hurry by. She makes an effort to now sell herself through friendliness, but she does not know how to do it as well as she used to know how to sell the souls of the girls in her big Butte brothel. The nights sped fast in the hurrah days of Mary Mullen but they today drag with feet of lead and beer, even, at a dollar a bottle, would not now jazz up drab hours she lives in her rocking chair with her nightmares of memories.

Sponsored by The Lions Club a benefit dance, the returns from which will be turned over to the Infantile Paralysis drive, is to be held at the auditorium of the State Hospital Saturday evening, February 9.

Made Nice Gesture.

The Lions Club's dance was made possible through the desire to co-operate expressed by the 20-30 Club which had the auditorium engaged for a dance the night Lions Club intended to hold theirs. It, too, was planned for the benefit of the drive to overcome ravages of Polio, thus making it possible for the Lions to hold their dance by the 20-30 retiring. Forrest Hughes is general chairman of the dance this year.

The Date Set.

The affair will take place at Talmage Saturday evening, February nine. Tickets will be offered between now and the dance date and a generous response is hoped for.

Demand Closed Shop

The Unionists refused to accept these terms and are standing for a closed shop. This the Companies plan to resist as long as possible.

At the Pacific Lumber Company, at Scotia, a picket line was thrown in front of the entrances and workers disregarded the lines and went to work, resuming their duties as usual. However, the woods of the Pacific Company are idle.

STATE MARKET IS RE-OPENING

Re-entrance Here Of Big Store Is Set For Tomorrow

The State Market, in The Gibson Hotel building, State and Henry streets, will re-open for business, with a full line of meats, groceries, fruits and vegtables Thursday (tomorrow) morning.

Went To War.

When war started so many of the employes of The State Market went into service it became necessary to close business. However, the owners retained a lease on the premises throughout the duration of the war and re-opened as quickly as possible after cessation of hostilities.

Remodeled Premises.

For several weeks past the store has been undergoing re-modeling and renovation at the hands of a large crew and the big store has undergone a changed condition. Following completion of the alterations the past few days has seen a force of clerks filling the shelves with a big stock of groceries and this morning the vegetables and fruit departments will be found to contain full stocks of fresh fruits and vegetables. The meat department has been fully stocked and the refrigerator filled with fresh, choice meats and poultry.

Has Large Force.

There is a force of 10 clerks employed and prompt, courteous service will be provided at all times. The market will maintain its own private delivery for its customers. The Market's Telephone is 193-W and prompt attention to customers' needs will be a main feature of the Market's desire to be helpful.

A NEW MEMBER FOR MORTUARY

Walter R. Eversole In Line Of His Forebears Here

The Eversole Mortuary, founded in 1893 by the late J. W. Eversole, has made an addition to its staff. After the first World War, in which he participated, the present owner of the Eversole Mortuary was taken into partnership with his father, J. W. Eversole, and at the time of the latter's passing in 1928, the entire management was taken over by Edward A. Eversole and has been under his management ever since that time. History is now repeating itself. Walter R. Eversole, son of Edward A. Eversole, has returned from World War Two and is being taken in partnership by his father.

Is Well Qualified.

Before going into the Army Air Forces, Walter Eversole attended San Francisco College of Mortuary Science and after graduation from that school and having served his apprenticeship at a large Mortuary in San Francisco, passed his State Board examinations and became a full fledged embalmer.

Those In Charge.

The working staff of the Mortuary will be the same as before, consisting of the managing owner, E. A. Eversole, assistant manager, B. E. Houdeshell, who has been in the employ of the Mortuary many years, and Mrs. Bess Eversole, who has assisted with women and children's cases for years as well as in other ways, and now a new partner, Walter R. Eversole.

As In The Past.

In the nearly 53 years Eversole Mortuary has been operating in Ukiah it has maintained a high record in the matter of service first to its clients and that record will continue as long as any Eversole has any connection with the establishment. The best in materials and equipment is always the Eversole aim, as well as all the most personal services it can give.

The Mortuary was first started in the rear of the Eversole Furniture Store and as it grew a place for funeral services was opened on State street, then in 1925 the present Mortuary was built under guidance of the late Samuel Orr and in later years the owner, E. A. Eversole, has built additions and made many modern improveemnts. Since the property on the west of the Mortuary belongs to the same owners other improvements are contemplated as soon as conditions will permit.

CAME FOR LUMBER

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stanert were here from Willits last week on a strange mission—they were looking for dry lumber and visited all three places of business where they handle that product and could not find what they wanted. It is strange Willits, a lumber town, is so short on the product that supports the town.

COUNTY FEARS A THREATENED FUND TWISTING

Anderson Valley Fair Board Members To Watch Report

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Jan. 14.—E. B. Wiese, director of the Mendocino County Fair and Apple Show, went to Santa Cruz Thursday to attend a convention of Western Fairs Associations which was holding a session of several days there. According to report an effort may be made in the near future, to divert funds from racetracks that now go to support agricultural fairs into other channels. It is understood plans will be formulated, at the convention, to block such a move, if an attempt is made to get it through the legislature.

Jack June Home.

Master Sergeant Jack June arrived home Thursday from Camp Beale, where he had received his discharge. His parents, Judge and Mrs. H. J. June, motored to Camp Beale to bring him home, thus saving him a trip to San Francisco and back up here. M/Sgt. June was with the engineers and had a long stay in the Philippines and went from there to Japan. His work has been rebuilding and he sent home many interesting pictures of the bombed areas showing conditions when his crew moved in.

What He Did.

The major part of his work seems to have been roads and airstrips. At one time while in the Philippines he had 200 natives under him building roads in mud that required hip boots to work in. Jack has a brother, Delmer, with the Seabees in Alaska.

May Get Beauty Salon.

Ladies of the valley will be glad to know that, if present plans go through, we will have a beauty shop in Boonville in the near future. It will be located in the addition recently built by E. B. Wiese next door to his fountain and lunchroom.

Lodge Again Sold.

For the second time within a few months the Boonville Lodge has changed hands. Mrs. Helen Lycky, former owner, sold to Ruben Baldecchi, of Elk, and last week Mr. Baldecchi sold to Ao Stornetta, of Point Arena. Mr. Stornetta's nephew, Clarence Galletti, also of Point Arena, will operate the place here, and has already taken charge. Mr. Baldecchi was not able to continue with the Lodge, due to ill health, and the family has returned to the coast.

To Continue Station.

It is understood Lampert & Arnold, who have the service station at the Lodge leased, will WILLITS, Jan. 14.— Funeral services for the late Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Whited, endearingly known as Dollie Whited, were held at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. H. Howe officiating. The remains were laid away for the long rest in the family plot in Sawyers cemetery.

Lived Here Life Long.

Deceased was born and raised in Willits and was 79 years of age. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vincent, pioneer settlers. At an early age she was married to Charles Whited, who was a carpenter and contractor and following the extension of the railroad to Willits they bought and operated the Palace Hotel on the corner of Main and Mendocino streets now occupied by an Oil company. During her active years she took a very prominent part in all our social activities and was one of our best known citizens.

Health Not Good.

Several years ago she started to fail and for the past two years has been living with her son, Dr. Carl Whited, in Mendocino.

To Teach Typing.

An adult class in typing will start at the Willits high school tomorrow, January 15. It will be held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Would Let Contract.

The city council advertised for bids for the garbage contract, but at its meeting last week no bids were received and it will have to be re-advertised. It is said several are interested but they do not want to pay for the privilege, for it is uncertain what it is worth.

Here From Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gunn were here from their Montana ranch to pass the holidays on their ranch east of town. They have returned to their Montana farm.

Roads All Open.

Supervisor Eck Safford reports all of the roads in his district are now open for travel but some of them are a little rough, for "they took an awful beating" during the big storm. The last road to be blocked was the Laytonville-Dos Rios highway where a big slide came down on Burger creek and the crew worked all day to open it so cars could get by.

To Play Potter Valley.

The Willits Basketball Team will play Potter Valley tonight. The Willits team played Cloverdale last week and won by a score of 38 to 14.

Out Of Army.

Will Baechtel, former teller at Bank of Willits, has received his discharge from the Army and is now with his wife visiting relatives in southern California. They will return to Willits and he will resume his former position.

Not To Resume Business.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Allen have returned to Willits following an absence of four years. During the war Mr. Allen worked as an electrician at Marinship and the family made its home in San Rafael. Throughout their long residence in Willits they operated a candy factory and store, which they still own, but on account of the shortage of sugar they do not expect to resume the business and will sell it to some younger couple. They are living at their old home on Monroe street.

Flyers Organizing.

The Long Valley Flying Club has been organized and already has about a dozen flying enthusiasts. Dolph Camilli, famous baseball player who owns a ranch in Long Valley and has long owned his own plane, is president of the Club, Dick Burgess is treasurer, and Ernie Hughes secretary. Mr. Burgess will be flying instructor and they have laid out a field on the 101 Hereford ranch, one mile south of

DOGFALL SEEN IN STRIKE END FOR INCREASES

Threatened Walkout Of Millmen-Timbermen Is Fading

WILL DRAG FOR WEEKS

Boards Will Consider Demands—Public Pays Raise?

Special Correspondence of The Press

FORT BRAGG, Jan. 14.—It is predicted the deadline for the threatened strike in the mills and woods of Northern California will come and go without a cessation of operations.

What Will Happen.

The general belief now is the Unions will harrass the companies with their threats; that a conciliation board will take the matter up and consider the claims the men make and that, eventually there will come a report from the conciliation board, which may, later, go to the war labor board, and that, in the end the men may get some increase, but nothing like that contained in their demand when they served notice of their intention to walk off their jobs.

Public To Suffer.

There may be written into any raise in pay the men may get from the operators an increase in the price of lumber, this, of course, falling upon the public to assume when lumber is purchased hereafter.

Rail service between Ft. Bragg and Willits was resumed Thursday after being discontinued since Christmas. Heavy storms caused several large washouts and slides and large crews have been employed clearing the track and making necessary fills. Both passenger and freight service have been resumed.

Plan Big Hardware Business.

Announcement was made last week the Caspar Lumber Company, purchaser of the Windlinx Hardware Company in Fort Bregg, has changed the name to the Coast Hardware and Supply Company. They intend to add many new lines of merchandise and the business will be one of the largest in this part of the state. The Windlinx brothers owned the business ever since 1902 and have decided to take a well-earned rest.

County Truck Recovered.

The county pickup truck which was stolen here last fall has been found. The thieves were arrsted in Texas and told the officers where they hid it. It was concealed off a deer trail and completely covered with brush. The car was in excellent condition, other than a broken fender and a dead battery.

More Veterans Home.

The following have been released from the armed services and returned last week: Freddie Bradley, Roy Rexrode, Carl John Sypriano, Cornelius Miller, Paul F. Rosa, Francis Ihns, Lawrence Bainbridge, Anthony Tamagno, Victor Romeri, Vernon Quaill, Harold Johnson, Clyde M. McNabb, Aladino Valenti, Frank S. Peterson, Walter E. Kokko, John Kujala, Fred M. Koski, Russell Gibney, Albert Bernardini, Gino Galli, Neil A. Cooper, Robert J. Gamble, Gunnar B. Erickson.

Bowlers Organize.

The new Redwood Bowl was formally opened Saturday night by Lou Crinella. A Bowling Association has been formed and it has been decided to apply for membership in the American Bowling Congress.

Convalescing Nicely.

FOR LABOR PEACE

WHEN PRESIDENT TRUMAN asserted that "wages are paid out of earnings" and that fact-finding boards should have the legal right to "examine books" of employers, he was saying in effect that wages must be based upon "ability to pay" which is measured by the earnings of a company.

Should that economic fallacy be enacted into law by Congress, its damaging effects would be felt by every small businessman and, finally, by every farmer, every consumer in the land.

Benefits of increased industrial efficiency would be passed along to a small group of workers, instead of to the public in the form of lower prices.

Labor itself would be hurt, because — under the formula — wage rates would be reduced when earnings declined.

Fundamentally it would undermine our system of political and economic freedom, because competition would be eliminated and there would cease to be that constant creation and growth of new and small enterprises which is essential to progress and the provision of jobs for all who want to work.

Our traditional policy has been to base wages upon "ability to pay" as measured by productivity. Under that system, wages have quadrupled during the past 50 years — hours of work have been reduced by one-third.

Congress, which is closer to the true facts and to the people who would pay in the end, will have as much to say here.

SPACE PANHANDLERS

(The Santa Rosa Press-Democrat)

PUBLICITY CONTESTS, in which clubs, lodges or other organizations have intercity or inter-state contests to see who can get the most space in the newspapers are approaching the point of being a public nuisance. It is a silly form of activity. "Writing for space" is also frequently engaged in by paid publicity agents, who hope to impress their employers by showing a large volume of newspaper clippings. In a publicity contest an organization with state or national connections is urged to keep a scrapbook and measure the column inches of publicity it is able to get into the papers in a given time. The organization with the most inches is awarded a prize or other honors. Such contests do not mean much, since the papers in different communities have different space problems. Some editors may accept articles of little or no news value just to please the person who presents it. Another may feel he must limit such "plugs" to those portions which are of genuine interest to the readers, even if the publicity writer is offended. Organizations should refuse to enter such contests. They are unfair to the public, to the newspaper and to other organizations which may have legitimate news crowded out.

The public does not read long-winded articles that have the distinct odor of publicity, or self praise. Often a short tiem is of more value than the same information would be if drawn out to fill a column. Publicity contests, if there must be such things, should be judged on the quality of the text and not on the space the writer is able to fill. It is not difficult to detect the existence of such a space-filling competition. Many such contestants have found themselves in the sad situation of being unable to get anything into print as a result of demanding too much. Any sensible editor is willing to co-operate to a reasonable extent with any organization or individual that needs publicity. Some of the greatest campaigns undertaken during the war were carried on almost entirely by use of free publicity, which publishers everywhere contributed cheerfully to a vital cause. Every church, lodge, woman's club or other group is welcome to use space in this newspaper whenever it is needed to advance the work of the organization, but, like other newspapers, we frown on space writers and usually give them little consideration.

ACTOR TWICE BLESSED TWICE OVER IN FILM

Preston Foster makes the abrupt switch from epic drama to hep-cat comedy when he lands the leading role opposite Gail Patrick in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's comedy hit, "Twice Blessed," opening Wednesday at The State Theatre. Following his portrayal of two-fisted Jim Brennan, with Greer Garson and Gregory Peck in "The Valley of Decision," he finds himself cinematically, knee-deep in woman trouble. With Gail Patrick as his ex-wife, and Gloria Hope, his reporter-sweetheart, vying for his affections, Foster's troubles only begin. He's father of the Wilde twins, Lee and Lyn. He has raised Lee as a fun-loving jitterbug. Patrick, is a sedate, prim holder Lyn, raised by her mother, Miss of the international I. Q. record. When the twins change places, everyone concerned lands in one hilarious mix-up after the other. THE REVEILLE HAS BEEN SOLD

Cloverdale Newspaper Taken Over By A Newcomer

The Cloverdale Reveille and Geyserville Press have been sold to Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Simmons, recently of San Francisco, by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Wells. The new owners now are in full charge and possession. Mr. and Mrs Wells are assisting temporarily in the business until Mr. Simmons gets it fully reorganized. The Reveille, the oldest business enterprise in northern Sonoma county, was established in October ,1879, by James Hoadley, who died several years ago, and has since been published continuously without change of name. Mr. Hoadley was a brother of Mrs. C. E. Humbert and was but 17 years of age when he founded the paper. The Press was started nearly 14 years ago by Eugene Travaglio, of San Francisco, and was bought about eight years ago by Mr. Wells. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and their son, Hoyt Simmons, now are located in Cloverdale. C. R. Simmons comes exceptionally well prepared to carry on publication of the papers. For many years he was with the Associated Press. Mr. and Mrs. Wells are retiring from business for reasons known to many of their friends and which it is not necessary to dwell upon at this time. They intend to continue to make their home in Cloverdale. (Mr. and Mrs. Wells lost their son in the war).

In quitting the newspaper business Mr. Wells makes this observation: "No other institution in a town can take such a vital part in making a good and progressive community as the newspaper. As an aside in this 'swan song' we wish to observe a newspaper cannot do its full duty to the community without proper patronage. We hope—which necessarily implies belief—The Reveille and Press will continue to prosper at the hands of the good people of Cloverdale and Geyserville—our friends.

So, farewell!"

The dates are February 21, 22, 23 and 24.

STATE THEATRE IS SELECTED AS A HOLLYWOOD TEST SPOT!

Ray Milland in Paramount's "The Lost Weekend," receives sympathetic advice from Jane Wyman and Phillip Terry.

Local movie-goers will soon have the opportunity of assisting a Hollywood Movie Studio in the producing of future filmfare, according to an announcement received by Theatre Manager Tom Anderson. "Paramount Studios have selected the State Theatre as the best location in this part of California in which to get an unbiased cross section report on the worth of a picture," Manager Anderson is quoted saying.

Want Public View.

The fact remains movie critics from other parts of the State have become too critical, and it is the wish of the Studio to find out what the general movie-going public wants in the manner of movies. In connection with this announcement, the Studio will distribute "Comment Blanks" to all patrons attending The State Theatre during the screening of "The Lost Weekend" at The State Theatre, starting Sunday, January 27.

Do Not Miss It.

For a real thrill be sure to attend the showing of this highly controversial picture.

SECRET PAROLE UNDERMINES JUSTICE

Today I got a letter from Harry J. Raymond, of Los Angeles.

He is the man who was blown up by dynamite and for that act a superior court jury convicted Earle E. Kynette, the Appellate Court sustained the conviction in the lower court and the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed the action of the lower courts, when the case reached the highest tribunal.

Earl Warren, now Governor, was then Attorney General, and he very earnestly and ably assisted in securing the conviction of the former police officer and alleged member of the Department's Goon squad.

In the letter Mr. Raymond sent me he enclosed a copy of a communication he had sent E. A. Burkhart, secretary of the Adult Authority Board and he asked for this information: The date of the board meeting which granted a parole to Earl E. Kynette, the police officer who allegedly placed the dynamite bomb in Mr. Raymond's automobile and maimed him. Mr. Raymond also requested the names and addresses of the members of the Board of Parole granting the parole at that time.

This implies the victim of the policeman's dynamiitng had no knowledge of the contemplated freeing of his would-be murderer at the time the contemplated liberation of the convict was being provided for.

Mr. Raymond earlier had written me he did not learn of the Secret Board action on the convict's case until he read it in the newspapers.

When the man whose life-taking had been attempted by the dynamite bomb setter did hear of the intended parole, he protested to Governor Earl Warren, who had prosecuted the policeman for the attempted murder. He sent along a lot of facts showing the guilt of the man who was to be freed by the Parole Board — Apparently he wrote Governor Warren twice, at least, and in his letter to me today Mr. Raymond sent me this copy of a letter he had just received from the Executive Office in reply to his communication:

State of California
Governor's Office
Sacramento 14
December 6, 1945.

Mr. Harry J. Raymond
2800½ Oregon Street
Los Angeles, 23, California.

Dear Mr. Raymond:

Governor Warren has received your letters of November 23 and November 29, concerning the parole of Earle E. Kynette.

The Governor has asked me to tell you that since the granting of Paroles is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Adult Authority, your letters are being forwarded to that agency for their attention.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) W. T. Swigert,
Executive Secretary.

That is a strange construction of the law.

If a man is in death row awaiting execution the Governor of a sovereign State can order, and frequently has done so despite the fact the court has said he must die—the condemned man do not die. On the other hand there has come in the above letter the stated fact the Adult Authority — the new fangled name for the old Parole Board —cannot be interfered with!

This freeing of the dynamiter is going to hurt all future paroles. A secret parole never has benefited the cause of convicted men.

I have always been an advocate of an open hearing on every convict's case. All the facts, good and bad, in a convict's case when he is seeking parole should be produced at a hearing and everyone, in any manner connected with the conviction, and everyone who has any evidence to show favorable to the granting of a parole, should be advised 30 days before the hearing on the facts are scheduled to appear and they should be given an opportunity to have a full inquiry. The rights of a convict should be protected in every way possible and that same method of administering justice should be applied to the citizenship of California.

A secret parole is loathsome to everyone who believes in the above-board admniistration of justice.

SONOMA MAN FACES PRELIMINARY FRIDAY

Carence W. Delahoyd, of Santa Rosa, will appear before Judge Will Van Dyke Friday for his preliminary hearing on a charge of having run down and killed Andrew Kozak, a stranger walking on the highway south of Willits. The accused man is charged with a hit-run offense.

MUST WE HAVE GOVERNMENT BY VIOLENCE INSTEAD OF BY LAW?

(Reprint of an editorial which appeared in The Detroit Free Press when the Unions had threatened to shut off the electric power and gas.)

"I had hoped since 10 o'clock in the morning that I would receive assurances that there would not be cessation of vital services to the people of Michigan. Finally, late in the afternoon, I sought to make personal contact with Mr. Saunders, but I was told by his office that he was unavailable."

The above statement, with its wistful, plaintive note, was made Thursday by Gov. Harry F. Kelly, chief executive of the ONCE sovereign state of Michigan.

The "Mr. Saunders," to whom he refers, is Garland W. Saunders, CIO union boss of the Michigan Utility Workers Council, which threatens to paralyze Michigan with a power strike.

Governor Kelly sent his secretary from the State Capitol over to the Roosevelt Hotel at Lansing, to knock at the door of the union headquarters, to plead with Boss Saunders PLEASE to let the Governor speak to him. He was told that Saunders was not available!

★

A CIO executive bluntly told the Government of the once free Commonweatlh of Michigan that he was not available!

Here is it written into the record that a labor union is not "available" when the supreme law of our State asks for discussion of an issue before the people are plunged into the chaos that comes to a modern civilization when denied both light and power.

★

Thomas Jefferson, the man who made articulate the soul of American democracy, proclaimed:

"A wise and frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned—this is the sum of good government."

That doctrine the CIO has cast aside.

With the arrogance of a Louis XIV, as absolute despot of France, its leader proclaims, "I am the law!"

It does not matter whether Mr. Kelly has been weak-kneed in meeting the issue. No matter who or what he is, the Governor holds always, by lawful right, the seal of the State of Michigan.

He is the symbol of the power and the glory and the majesty of the law.

But he is told that "Mr. Saunders is not available."

★

Who in hell is the Governor of the State of Michigan to be knocking at the hotel doors of a union boss busy with his plans to make impuissant the law of the land and to invalidate the liberties of the people?

Send him away!

We have no time to bother with him.

He represents only the rights of the people.

Let them go without light!

Let them go without power!

Let them go without work!

We will get exactly what we want—OR ELSE.

★

In his famous "Spirit of the Laws," Montesquieu declared, "The deterioration of every government begins with the decay of the principles upon which it was founded."

The Government of the United States was founded—helped by his guidance—on the theory that the People are Sovereign, that they shall rule, supreme and absolute.

All government must be, in the ultimate analysis, essentially absolute or it ceases to be government and becomes anarchy.

When the dignity and the majesty of the law is scorned, by any man, or group of men who willfully and unlawfully take over that power resident alone in the hands of ALL the people, then democracy, free government — the things for which millions of Americans have died and are still dying — becomes a mere mockery.

But a CIO boss says he has no time available even to talk to the Governor—the legally elected executive officer of the people!

★

If this were an isolated instance it would not matter.

Little men puffed with power have gone berserk before and have usually wound up in police court.

But this is NOT an isolated incident.

It is a symbol of America today.

It is symptomatic of a condition that is Nationwide.

Union Tyrant John L. Lewis suddenly calls off his coal mine strike which has hamstrung not only the reconversion program but the return of American soldiers from abroad and the saving of the suffering peoples of the earth from freezing this winter. That strike lasted 24 days.

As usual, Tyrant Lewis gave no real reason for his abrupt change of mind. Today the one question being asked in Washington is: "What is the old boy up to now?"

Nobody, not even his own lieutenants, take seriously his growled statement that he has ordered the strike ended temporarily, "in the public interest."

Nothing has been settled.

Yet the United States Government publicly thanks Tyrant Lewis. Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach tells the reporters that he is delighted because John L. Lewis has changed his mind for reasons not known.

"I am grateful," says Schwellenbach.

This from a cabinet officer who acts as spokesman for the President of the United States!

He is grateful that Tyrant Lewis has decided that for the time being people may work and not freeze.

Furthermore, Schwellenbach has the amazing pusillanimity to suggest publicly that all other union leaders and employers follow John L. Lewis' example—whatever THAT may be.

Here is a man who is being mentioned for the United States Supreme Court who suggests that others follow the example of an individual with a long and odious record of telling the public to be damned.

A spokesman for the President of the United States advocates government by men and not by laws!

Washington is full of cowardly men who do not dare stand up and proclaim the ancient virtues of impersonal law and justice.

★

Another instance is that of modern new busses being held in the barns for three weeks. The people were denied this transportation because of a union dispute. The union (AFL) refused to let the cars run and to arbitrate their differences.

To hell with the people!

Let them stand on the street corners until WE get what WE want.

Here was a strike against no wicked corporation. Here was a strike against the people of the city of Detroit.

Then we have the far more sinister phase of the government by men instead of by law.

We have the goon squads, the private armies of men trained to use brass knuckles, billies, clubs and guns.

Mrs. Genora Dollinger is a CIO member and a worker at the Briggs Plant. She was assigned to investigate the beating up of other members by these goons in a factional union row.

On the night of October 15 some of these thugs invaded her home at 2583 Gladwin while she was asleep. They turned flashlights on her and beat her with fists and clubs. She was so badly injured that she is still in the hospital.

This is the result of an internal row in the CIO.

Therefore, of course, it is none of the public's damned business.

But Gordon McDonald, chairman of the Briggs local union unit, who is investigating the matter, says that Melvin Bishop, UAW-CIO Executive Board member, has "been implicated" as the instigator of the attack upon this helpless, sleeping woman.

Mr. Bishop resents that charge.

He says: "This is an annual affair. This is the fifth time they have made charges against me. I suppose they'll be running to the police department about this."

The very idea of running to the police department!

Why not walk or send a letter?

But Walter Reuther, vice-president of the CIO, says that the union's full resources will be used in backing a complete investigation.

Here a crime has been committed.

A home has been smashed in and a woman beaten to insensibility.

Where are the police?

Has the indignant Mr. Bishop been arrested or held for investigation?

His own union members accuse him.

But the union will do its OWN investigating.

If Mrs. Dollinger had been killed in this midnight assault, it is to be sincerely hoped that the police would have taken at least a mild interest in the affair as a slight case of murder.

Who in hell is the Governor of the State of Michigan to be bothering us by knocking on doors?

Who the hell are the police?

★

Upon the Twelve Tables of the law of the ancient Roman Republic there was written:

"The safety of the people shall be the highest law."

When that was forgotten the tyrants moved in and the Romans ceased to exist as a free people.

It has been the story of the human race ever since.

It is the history of tyranny everywhere.

Collapse of law and order brought Mussolini into power in Italy.

Collapse of law and order brought Hitler and his hideous horde into power in Germany to conquer Europe and almost to conquer the world.

We have spent untold billions to save human freedom from despotism and we have sacrificed the finest blood of our Nation.

Yet we supinely sit and drift into a complete state of anarchy in America because groups of cowardly politicians refuse to live up to their moral obligations and to enact clearly written, just and honest laws for the salvation of the rights of ALL the people.

Tell that Governor to go chase himself.

He is annoying us by knocking at our door.

We are not available.

The law be damned.

SIREN BLOWING

THE MARCH OF DIMES IS ON

Make your donation direct to the County Chairman John W. Taylor—Drop coins into receptacles you will find about town in the business houses — Be liberal when the Box is passed at the Theatre.

Infantile paralysis is one of the most expensive diseases known to medicine. Not only must many victims of past epidemics receive continuing care, but each year's outbreaks add new names to the steadily growing list. ...Hospitalization for a single patient costs more than $2,500 a year. Some cases cost less, some much more, depending on the severity of the attack. Few families can meet the cost of extended polio treatment. Through the March of Dimes, January 14-31, conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, treatment and care can be assured for all polio victims, regardless of age, race, creed or color. Half of your contributions to the March of Dimes remain with your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to be used for special equipment, hospitalization, transportation and treatment and care of polio patients. The other half goes to the National Foundation for research, education and emergency aid during epidemics.

The afflicted poor cannot cure themselves. Only by the help of millions through the giving of dimes can they get well. Little crippled children are looking to you. Do not let them down.

Food donations were small but members donated money which brought the profits to a wonderful showing. Preparations were made for a membership drive with Veltha Burke and Alta Dillingham as Captains, the losing team to treat the winners to a dinner and President Lena Cunningham is making a personal donation to the member who brings in the most new daughters. The drive is to continue from now until May 1. Members regret the going away of a loyal and faithful sister, Sydney Bertsch, who plans to leave for Marysville as soon as her husband returns from overseas. A raffle prize donated by Agnes Chapman was won by Helen Carmichael, proceeds to go to Homeless Children.

The committee in charge displayed an attractive spring banquet table loaded with frozen fruit jello salad with Ritz crackers, pineapple and strawberry rolls with whipped cream, chocolate cakes and coffee. In the center of the table was a white bowl filled with China lilies with tall white candles on either side and spring flowers. Napkins were in the shape of butterflies, the credit going to Mrs. Ann Hill, chairman, her daughter, Frances Blebelle, co-workers Marian Hachmann and Agnes Chapman. Now don't say a man can't make a table attractive. Fancy touches were done by Chet Hill, husband of the Lady Chairman.

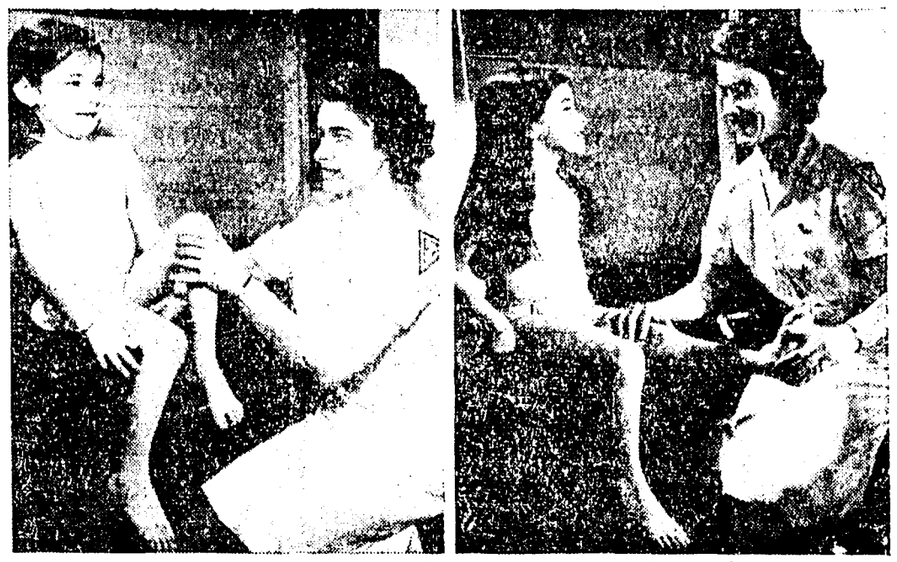
EASY DOES IT



Sheila Nunan, six-year-old infantile paralysis patient at Children's Hospital, Boston, concentrates on exercises to build up muscles after an attack of the disease. (At left,) Sheila tries hip flexion exercises under the direction of physical therapist Deborah Kinsman. (At right,) she is shown trying to master extension exercise.

Your contributions to the March of Dimes can help thousands of others like Sheila back to active health.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES JANUARY 14-31

"All the money contributed is divided into two parts. Half remains in the county where it is subscribed, to provide direct aid to infantile paralysis patients. It is used by the County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for medical and nursing care, hospitalization, physical therapy, treatments, orthopedic surgery, if necessary, orthopedic equipment and appliances, and all other services necessary to the complete care of poliomyelitis patients.

For National Program.

"The other half goes to headquarters of the National Foundation for emergency aid in epidemics, for training professional personnel in care and treatment methods, for education and the vital program of scientific research, which is our only hope of finally wiping out this dread disease. This intensive fight against infantile paralysis is undoubtedly the greatest voluntary humanitarian movement in the recorded history of mankind. It has enlisted the personal interest and contributions of a majority of America's adult population. It exists only by and through your continuing support.

"The March of Dimes, January 14-31, gives all of us an opportunity to join this important crusade," said John W. Taylor, Chairman of the Drive of the March of Dimes.

Founded in 1893

The Eversole Mortuary has been in the family of the original ownership through almost 53 years. During all this time one member of the family after the other has followed in the wake of his forebears.

Returning from World War 1, E. A. Eversole associated himself with his father, the late J. W. Eversole, and, in 1928, upon death of Mr. Eversole, his son, E. A. Eversole, assumed control of the Mortuary. In like manner when Walter R. Eversole, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Eversole, was released from the Air Service, he followed in the footsteps of his father and completes a trinity of morticians' services — by Grandfather, father and, now, son.

For over a half-century Eversole Mortuary has rendered only the highest-type funeral service and, from now on, with the advent of Walter R. Eversole as a member, it will continue, in times of affliction, to minister in the same spirit of sympathetc tenderness as in the past.

No change will occur in the personnel of the morticians at Eversole Mortuary. Edward A. Eversole will continue as Managing Owner; B. E. Houdeshell will serve as Assistant-Manager; Mrs. Bess Eversole will participate in all cases involving deaths of women and children and the newest member of the staff, Walter R. Eversole will officiate on all occasions necessitating his doing so.

"The Western Electric Employes Association, representing some 17,200 members employed at Kearney, New Jersey, and nine associated manufacturing plants of the Western Electric Company in New York and New Jersey, has been on strike since January 3. The Association of Communication Equipment Workers, representing Western Electric Company installation department empoyes throughout the country, is reported by the press to have called a strike of its members for January 9. Two automobile accidents took place near Longvale last week and both were caused by an icy road. One accident was near the underpass when two cars, traveling in opposite directions, met head-on as one of the cars skidded and both cars were slightly damaged. One passenger was brought to Howard Memorial Hospital for treatment for minor injuries. The other accident took place on the Longvale bridge, which is not a good place for such affairs to happen for had the cars been going at greater speed one or both might have been thrown into the creek which is now flowing bank full. One of the cars was brought to Willits for repairs and the other was sold to a bystander by the owner after he had made a reasonable offer.
